Tips for Stating Using Facts and Examples

- Supporting facts are true statements.
- Examples are descriptions of a situation or event. Examples are used to bring ideas to life and show them in real situations.
- Both facts and examples should be accurate and are used to justify a position or point of view.

- Do not use a fact or example unless it supports your topic.

- A fact makes a point and is followed by an example that illustrates that point of view by describing a situation or event.
- Organize facts and examples so they work together to build a strong case for your point of view.
